the 90-day creator bet

free live masterclass with Austin Tesch · @thesilveryouth type where you're watching from

i dropped out with one year left

no plan. no backup. just a gut feeling the path wasn't mine.

- 90 days to make content creation and UGC work, or back to the life i didn't want
- first five-figure month, inside one month. it's mind boggling to me still
- now: Austin TX, brands i actually like, and teaching this
- i'm not telling you this to flex. i was exactly where you are

type YES

so let's look at screens, not words

SCREEN: Wins highlight · $3,063.17 one-day payout + caption

SCREEN: Wins highlight · $6,441.48 earnings dashboard screen-recordings of my own page. it's public. pause and go check.

before i give you anything, a deal

if i show you a plan you can actually follow,
do you commit to sending your first piece of content this week?

type YES in the chat

let's go one by one, honestly

- this looks fake: we just did the receipts. later you'll see my students' screens too.
- i have no audience: the money is in videos brands use, not followers. mechanism in a minute.
- i have no money: your phone is the studio. the bet costs time, not money.
- i'm not a camera person: neither was i. reps fix it, and nobody sees your first ten.
- i always quit: everybody does, at week 3, alone. secret #3 is exactly that.

WHERE THIS GOES

from watching to getting paid

picture a monday, 90 days from now.

TODAY

- you watch other people's payouts
- you post sometimes, nothing happens
- no brand knows you exist
- you're doing this alone

IN 90 DAYS

- you post on a system
- your portfolio pitches for you
- first deals + first commissions
- people ahead of you in the room

the 3 things i'm showing you today

1. why you don't need an audience to start (and what actually gets paid)
2. why the brands you're ignoring are the ones that pay first
3. what the people who don't quit at week 3 have that you don't, yet

type GO

you don't need an audience. you need reps.

the real order: do the reps, the audience is a side effect.

SCREEN: reels tab · the may sprint (15 reels in 12 days, one at 889K views) brands don't buy your followers. they buy your videos.

- UGC: a brand pays for the video itself and runs it on THEIR channels. follower count irrelevant.
- TikTok Shop: your video sells a product, you take a commission on every sale.
- both pay before you're "big". the asset is the video, not the audience.

my march dashboard from the receipts? commissions. the video does the selling.

then again tomorrow

"i just did the work." that's the whole sentence.

type MONEY

stop pitching brands you follow.

start pitching brands that need you.

- big brands: thousands of pitches in the inbox
- smaller brands: less competition, faster yes, better pay than you think
- long-term relationships start small and grow with you

my student dev's first deal: $300

SCREEN: Wins highlight · Discord thread: brand offer ($300 / 3 videos / half up front) + signed agreement his words, mid-negotiation:

"i'm actually shitting bricks this is crazy"

that's a first deal. from a smaller brand.

the pitch, in four steps

1. build a portfolio (one free video counts)
2. make a banger example video (copy what works, make it yours)
3. reach out to everyone like your life depends on it
4. don't skip the smaller brands

that's the free version. the full version has the templates, scripts and pricing.

everybody quits at week 3

motivation is free on day 1. week 3 silence is expensive.

alone, the bet dies quietly. you just... stop.

the difference isn't discipline. it's whether anyone would notice if you stopped.

the ones who don't quit have a room

SCREEN: Wins highlight · Grace: $296.5 commission day

SCREEN: Wins highlight · Roo: $466.17 in <3 weeks + thank-you text somebody saw their reps. somebody celebrated the win the day it happened.

reps + reviews + wins

WINS

progress gets loud.
quitting stops being silent

i once ran a marathon with no training. the rule: you don't need to feel ready, you need to start and not stop.

nothing changes if nothing changes.

what you have now

- the engine: reps beat reach. volume finds the winner.
- the bridge: smaller brands + TikTok Shop commissions pay before you're big.
- the room: the ones who make it aren't stronger. they're seen.

the silver youth

the 90-day system + the room · founding launch

until now i've only coached 1-1. every screenshot tonight came from that. tonight it opens to a first group.

the course: your 90 days, in order

- week 0: the portfolio (one video, free, counts)
- the example video: exact formats to copy
- outreach: my templates, the four steps with training wheels
- TikTok Shop setup: so commissions can even happen
- pricing + agreements: dev's signed deal is the template
- the consistency structure: day 1 to day 90

the community: the room, opened up

- daily reps channel: post it, it's seen
- video reviews, live: the way you watched me do it with dev
- wins channel: where grace's screenshot goes the day it happens
- me, in there, every day
- founding members: the students you just saw, in from day one [CONFIRM] this is the part i can't put in a course, because it's people.

no fake seat counts. here's what's actually true:

- founding price locked for life, for as long as you stay
- month-one weekly Q&A is a founding thing (i can't do weekly lives forever)
- founding badge: the room will always know you were here when it started
- the first cohort starts week 0 together, monday
